

Abigail Walker and Jarvis Daniels are long time sweethearts headed in opposite directions. Abby, an aspiring cellist, wants out of her humble Detroit surroundings and she's willing to shed blood, sweat and tears to make it happen. Jarvis, on the other hand, is perfectly content with life, status quo. He's young. There's plenty of time to become a responsible adult. For now, he's got everything a man could want: a roof over his head, a PlayStation and the love of a good woman. But when Abby's music career takes off and she moves to Chicago, Jarvis gets the boot's sort of. Abby still loves him, but his penchant for faded sweaters and meatball subs just don't fit into her new, sophisticated world of designer gowns and concert halls. They're in different leagues and Abby makes no qualms of reminding him of it whenever she deigns to visit. A twist of fate, however, turns their worlds upside down, when the couple is involved in a near fatal car accident. Broken, stripped and broken again, they each stumble through a journey of healing and self-discovery as they struggle to accept the merciful hand of the only One who can help them up after a fall.
