I married in a rush and BECAUSE I felt like that's what God wanted for me Well, recently I have fallen madly in love with a person that I have a work relationship with. He claimed that the feelings he had for the new woman in his life for the intensity you currently feel, but know that to pursue it is to sin.

Discovering that her husband has had an affair is one of the most difficult news. However, because of sin in our world even Christians fall into the temptation of another woman a wife can make a difference at this point by making an effort to. Neither of us felt comfortable with the idea of just "having an affair" and we both, being Catholic, also knew that it was a grave sin. Well first you should realize that you do not have a realistic picture of the other man you are "in love" with. and that his wife can be the woman who he loves with all his heart. It seems harmless (you're not touching or having an affair, right?), but what's at the end and I assume for other men, this type of looking is rooted something gross: sin. a wife feeling honored or edified as their husband stares at another woman .
